

WHO READS??

Though the book is always better, films that we knew were coming.

• Angels & Demons: Tom Hanks returns in this prequel to Dan Brown's The Da Vinci Code. Although the first film was horrifically terrible, this one promises to be a little better. — May 15
 ► Harry Potter and the Half-Blood Prince: Director David Yates is back again for this installment as we find Harry in the sixth year at Hogwarts. — July 15

MUST-SEES

Films that consist of well-known characters and effects budgets that could pay off our federal deficit.

- ▲ Terminator Salvation: Christian Bale takes on the role of John Connor in this latest installment. Directed by McG (Charlie's Angels), this one is missing not only Arnold but also James Cameron. — May 21
- Transformers: Revenge of the Fallen: Shia LaBeouf returns for what could be the most anticipated sequel since Pirates of the Caribbean 2. — June 24
- G.I. Joe: The Rise of Cobra: Channing Tatum (Step Up) joins Dennis Quaid for a stunt-driven film steeped with explosive action. Speaking of action: Where's G.I. Joe, the action figure with the beard and the fuzzy head? — Aug. 7

SAVE SITTER MONEY

Why should your little film fans go without?

- Night at the Museum: Battle of the Smithsonian: I wondered whether this would fair as well against the summer mega movies or whether it should have stayed in the holiday realm. Regardless this one looks to be even funnier than the first go round. — May 22
- Ice Age: Dawn of the Dinosaurs: Global warming hasn't prevented this series from flourishing and should make up for past Ice Age melt-downs. — July 1

MAKE IT A DATE

There is never a lack of romance and comedy.

- The Proposal: Date movie at its core. Stars Sandra Bullock and Ryan Reynolds. Can Sandra bring back her charm of years past? — June 19
- Away We Go: Comedy/drama starring John Krasinski and Maya Rudolph. This Sam Mendes-directed film is one I am calling a Juno for the thirtysomethings. — June 25

UNIVERSAL PICTURES

LOOKS GOOD

Finally, those I want to see simply from the movie poster!

- ◀ Land of the Lost: Will Ferrell and Michael Cera. Say no more. — June 5
  - The Taking of Pelham 123: Denzel Washington and John Travolta with cold stares. I am in. — June 12
  - Year One: Jack Black as a caveman with Michael Cera? Yes. Please. — June 19
  - Public Enemies: Johnny Depp playing 1930s John Dillinger. Aye aye. — July 1
